

Your friend has a new MP3 player and you are jealous.

(Deuteronomy 5:21)

Someone just called you a nasty name and you think about calling him something worse.

(Proverbs 15:1)

You overheard two friends making fun of you.
They said they're sorry, but you are angry.

(Mark 11:25)

Your friends all have nice houses and cars.
You are embarrassed about your house, so you're thinking about making up a story to impress them.

(Proverbs 12:22)

A friend told you she has cigarettes, and she wants you to meet her secretly so you can try one.

(Deuteronomy 6:18)
